

METEORS FALL, COMET COMES KNIVES AND IRON BARS THREATEN DEATH IN HARBOR

WAOHINU WAITS ON WASHINGTON

When Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell was in Waiohinn, Kau, Hawaii, May 6, 7, and 8, there was held at his call one of the most interesting public gatherings recorded in a long time, the gathering being significant in that the determination of the people of Waiohinn, by unanimous vote, was to await the action of the United States Congress on the amendments to the Hawaiian Organic Act, particularly relating to land, before the settlement of the celebrated Kamao lands and the Waiohinn village lands.

Campbell was there to clear up public land matters as near as possible. He gave the people the choice of at once having the lands put up at auction, to proceed with the sale or to wait until Congress should act in regard to the amendments to the Organic act, when those who have resided for ten years on the town lands may get their title; and he called upon them by name, to vote yes or no; and unanimously they voted to await the action of Congress, except that they wanted the taro lots disposed of right away.

The taro lots were sold, each resident getting an acre, those who had been working the taro lots getting first choice.

MAN KILLED BY AUTO

As a result of the death of John De Mello Barboza, who was run over and killed yesterday afternoon by automobile No. 427, driven by E. C. Cluney, near the entrance of the Kamehameha boys' school, on King street, E. C. Cluney, John Cummings and C. Machado are held to await the result of the coroner's inquest which will be held tonight at 7:30 in the sheriff's office.

The accident occurred a little after five o'clock, while the car was coming at a good speed, according to the statements of several of the witnesses, towards Honolulu.

As a result of the post mortem held this morning in the morgue by City and County Physician Mackall, assisted by Drs. Emerson and Sinclair, Dr. Sinclair acting for W. T. Rawlins, who is attorney for Cluney, it was found that every rib on the right side from the fifth down was broken, the fourth rib near the middle of the chest. There were two punctures of the liver, a fracture of the right hip acetabulum, and pelvis, several bruises and cuts on the head and the body. According to the police the watch that was carried by the unfortunate man was smashed to bits.

Cluney and the two passengers who are being held, came at once to the station and surrendered themselves after they had taken the body of Barboza to the Queen's hospital. When the machine arrived at the hospital the house physician examined the body and found that life was extinct.

Harry Lake, county detective, who was near the scene of the accident, in his written statement says that the machine had covered a distance of 200 yards before it was brought back to where the man was lying in the road.

On account of the number of witnesses tonight's inquest is likely to last until late, and it is possible that it will be continued.

VICTIM MAY LIVE

On account of the coroner's jury being unable to hear the story from Goo Yuen who was shot early yesterday morning by Yap Hui, the inquest over the death of the woman, Ah Rio Ayana, and the suicide of Yap Hui will Ayana, and the suicide of Yap Hui will Queen's hospital think that Yuen is well enough to talk.

According to the statement of the doctors this morning, Goo Yuen has more than a fighting chance to pull through.

Mutiny Aboard Vessel In Port

CHINESE CREW OF BRITISH TRAMP COLLIER STRATHGYLE TRY TO KILL OFFICER AND WATCHMAN BECAUSE ONE OF THEIR NUMBER IS NOT ALLOWED ON BOARD—POLICE CALLED—BRECKONS INVESTIGATES—TRIAL BEFORE THE CONSUL.

Red-eyed mutiny on the part of the twenty-one members of the Chinese crew of the British freight steamship Strathgyle, Captain F. C. Davidson, broke out aboard that vessel between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning.

One of the number had been refused permission to return to the vessel by the watchman, having overstayed his leave ashore, and, at once, armed with graters and cleavers, the rest of the Chinese went mad and tried to take possession of the vessel.

The Strathgyle arrived here from Newcastle with coal for the Inter-Island Company on Friday, May 13, and is tied up to the Bishop wharf.

There had been more or less trouble with the crew since a few days after leaving Newcastle, and mutiny was avoided only by the watchfulness of the officers.

One of the Chinese had a pass to come ashore, but failed to return when the time allowed by the pass was worked out.

When the Celestial returned to the ship this morning Watchman Layman refused him permission to get on the vessel, whereupon the rest of the Chinese crew rose in arms to demand that their companion be let aboard.

The master of the vessel was absent at the time, and the situation was in the hands of the acting second mate, John Bergsten. The watchman pulled his revolver, and shot several times, with a view to warning the mutineers that there would be bloodshed unless they resumed their duties without endeavoring to interfere with the discipline of the ship.

Chong Song, with a cleaver, and Ah Cheong, with a grate bar, attacked the second officer, who received a nasty cut over the left eye with the grate bar.

The officers of the ship ran to the rescue of the acting second officer, and one went to the Honolulu Iron Works, to call for the police, who responded as soon as possible, headed by Captain Baker. Mounted men marched the twenty-one Chinese to the jail, where they now are.

The master of the vessel has communicated with the British consul, before whom the hearing may be had, since the Strathgyle is British territory. Nevertheless, U. S. District Attorney Breckons is looking up the affair, as is also U. S. Marshal Hendry, jurisdiction not yet having been determined.

Captain Davidson refused any information to the press, apparently imagining that the mutiny was none of the public's business.

The Chinese claim that their officers do not treat them as they should be treated and that the Strathgyle is an unhappy ship as far as the Chinese crew is concerned.

EDWARD'S BODY LIES IN STATE

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

LONDON, May 17.—The remains of the late King Edward were today taken to Westminster Hall, where they are now lying in state. The procession following the bier was most imposing, including many royal personages followed by their retinues and numbering a host of notables from all over the kingdom and the world. Twelve thousand regular troops lined the streets through which the procession passed, and hundreds of thousands of spectators viewed the progress of the catafalque. Brief services were held at Westminster.

When Pinchot and Garfield were referred to as being behind the "corrupters of Kerby," the spectators hissed.

THOUSANDS SEE BRILLIANT RAIN

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 17.—During last night thousands of people of this city beheld a most brilliant meteoric shower, the phenomenon being associated with the nearness of the approach of Halley's comet to the earth.

Many shooting stars have of late been observed from Honolulu, people living in Waikiki and Kaimuki particularly noticing the entrancing spectacle. Last night there were noticed several stars falling within a very few minutes. Tomorrow the earth pierces the mysterious veil of the tail of Halley's comet, the vision of which has of recent nights excited so much admiration and interest. Scientists of the four corners of the earth have their different prognostications, pleasant and disagreeable, but all seem agreed that tomorrow night, or it may be tonight, will witness phenomena well worth staying up all night to see. The comet can be seen from Honolulu better than from any other place in the world. Unscientific guesses at the end of the world are being indulged in, but, if it happens, no one will know the difference.
